

Student Honor Code

Students at the institute are bound by the institute's Honor Code in their academic activities. As such, students promise...

"...that all of the assignments I submit in all of my courses will represent my own work. Whenever I make use of resources to inspire, inform, or support my ideas, I will summarize, paraphrase, and/or quote those sources appropriately, citing them in APA style. I will not submit the same work in more than one course unless I have received explicit and specific written permission from the professor to build on related work I have previously completed. Further, I will help to ensure fairness for all students by avoiding improper assistance or collaboration (including, but not limited to, providing, or obtaining answers to assignments or tests, whether in person or online).

I understand that it is better to submit incomplete work than to submit an assignment that contains plagiarism or another form of cheating, and I understand that I am responsible not only for following The Institute's Code of Academic Excellence, but also for seeking guidance if I am ever unsure whether my actions will reflect the standards of academic integrity espoused by the institute.

All students who enroll at the institute are bound by this honor code.

Contact Information

For further information about the New Lines Institute Master of Arts in Strategy and Policy, please contact admissions@newlinesinstitute.org.

Location: 1660 L St. NW, Ste. 450, Washington, DC 20036, US